18. TIMELINESS OF MOTION: If your judgment of conviction became final over one year ago, you must explain why the one-year statute of limitations as contained in 28 U.S.C. § 2255 does not bar your motion.*

As the record will show I have diligently been attempting to comply with the impending deadline. I received my 2255 form, from the court less than a month ago, Post-marked July 19, 2012, and I have worked hard to file in a timely fashion. Additionally, as previous correspondence has shown, I have attempted to contact my previous Attorney, A. Wayne Harrison, in hopes of obtaining a copy of my case file. To date I have received no correspondence, and as such am without all materials pertinent to this case. I believe this would cover the extraordinary circumstance prong of the two prong test in determining equitable tolling as the U.S. Supreme court has determined. The second part due diligence, has already been addressed.

* The Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 ("AEDPA") as contained in 28 U.S.C. § 2255, paragraph 6, provides in part that:

A one-year period of limitation shall apply to a motion under this section. The limitation period shall run from the latest of —

- (1) the date on which the judgment of conviction became final;
- (2) the date on which the impediment to making a motion created by governmental action in violation of the Constitution or laws of the United States is removed, if the movant was prevented from making such a motion by such governmental action;
- (3) the date on which the right asserted was initially recognized by the Supreme Court, if that right has been newly recognized by the Supreme Court and made retroactively applicable to cases on collateral review; or
- (4) the date on which the facts supporting the claim or claims presented could have been discovered through the exercise of due diligence.

Therefore, movant asks that the Court grant the following relief:

or any other relief to which movant may be entitled.
